

SierraWest Airlines

SierraWest Airlines

SierraWest Airlines was based in Albuquerque and had planned to begin commuter airline service between Albuquerque and Taos, New Mexico on March 1, 1987 with three daily round-trip flights. Flag stops were planned to be offered at Santa Fe, Espanola, and Los Alamos and the carrier was to operate Cessna 402 and Piper Seneca II aircraft. The company was formerly known as Mckinsey Air Inc. prior to receiving scheduled airline certification. SierraWest was short lived and it is not known if the airline actually began operations.
