

Trans American Airways

Trans American Airways was a commuter airline based in Denver, Colorado. Trans American operated a route from Denver to Santa Fe, New Mexico from early 1976 through August 1977 using Cessna 402 aircraft. Weekend service was provided to Taos, New Mexico from both Denver and Santa Fe. The carrier also operated routes from Denver to several cities in Wyoming.

Trans American Airways route map.