

Flexjet

Flexjet is an American provider of private jet charter services as well as fractional ownership, leasing, and prepaid jet card services. The company uses a fleet of small Bombardier, Embraer, and Gulfstream jet aircraft and Sikorsky helicopters. Flexjet was founded in 1995 as a division of Bombardier Aerospace and is currently owned by Directional Aviation, an aviation private investment firm based in Cleveland, Ohio. Flexjet operates frequent private charters to Albuquerque, Santa Fe, and throughout New Mexico.
