Wheels Up

Wheels Up is a provider of “on demand” private aviation. The carrier was founded in 2013 and later acquired several other private charter companies including Delta Private Jets, Gama Aviation, and Travel Management Company. In 2023, Wheels Up was purchased by Delta Air Lines but continues to operate separately. Wheels Up operates a fleet of more than 200 light aircraft including Beech King Air 350 turboprops and several types of light jets. The carrier is now the second largest private aviation company in the United States.
